

#14

BACKGROUND

This invention pertains to the processing of passengers in mass commercial travel. Its goal is security enhancement fraud and terrorist elimination and identification of all travelers. The related art is photo identification cards, computer card readers, computer data bases, reservation computer systems, baggage identification, frequent flight bonus programs, credit applications and biometric technologies also bar code readers, scanners and computer screen, touch screens.

SUMMARY

The creation of Cardone pulls all pertinent information into one simple application, system and card; maximizing security and eliminating transaction time. Also, used for visas, passports and staff identity; it is used amongst multiple databases (company, local, state federal) to share verification tasks.